June 1st
St. Justin,
Martyr

Justin, a layman, exerted a strong influence in the early Church. Born in Samaria around 100 A.D., he studied various philosophies and was converted to Christ when about 30 years old. Justin taught in Ephesus, later opened a school in Rome, and wrote defenses of Christianity. He wrote our oldest descriptions of the Baptismal rite and of Sunday Mass. Justin died a heroic martyr's death in about 165, during the persecution of the philosopher Emperor, Marcus Aurelius.

June 3rd
St. Charles Lwanga and Companions,
Martyrs

The universal Church today honors 22 black martyrs of Uganda in Africa. The first martyrs of black Africa, they died in a persecution similar to those of the ancient Roman Emperors. Most of them had been baptized but a short time. Lwanga, chief of the royal pages, was killed with twelve companions on this date in 1886. The Uganda martyrs were canonized as saints by Pope Paul VI in 1964.

Pro-Life Corner:

June 5- Did you know: The number of abortions per year worldwide is now 42 million? Does that number even register to you? Imagine, then a state with the population of California, being destroyed each and every year. Abortion is destroying our future.

God mounts his throne to shouts of joy; a blare of trumpets for the Lord.
