August 19th,
St. John Eudes,
Priest

Today's saint, born in France (1601), had an education before ordination as an Oratorian priest. After many years of effective mission preaching, he concluded that the best way to bring Christ to the poor people was to form educated, zealous priests. So John Eudes founded four seminaries, established the Congregation of Jesus and of Mary (the Eudists) to direct seminaries, started the Institute of Our Lady of Charity to care for wayward girls, and fostered the Sacred Heart devotion. He died in 1680.

August 20th,
St. Bernard,
Abbot and Doctor

St. Bernard (1090-1153) dominated the century in which he lived. At age 22 he joined the Cistercian monks. Shortly after made Abbot of Clairvaux, Bernard by words and actions encouraged his monks to outstanding virtue. He influenced Popes and kings, traveled to bring peace and unity, preached the Second Crusade. He wrote much and wrote movingly concerning the Lord Jesus, spirituality, the Scriptures and the Blessed Mother. Bernard died on this date in 1153.

Pro-Life Corner:

August 25th - Lenin once said, "The US will rot from within, so there is no need to destroy it from without." Since 1973, the US has aborted (killed) over 54,000,000 babies by surgical abortion. We are, indeed, rotting from within when we continue to allow this holocaust of our future generations.
